- Competition can have an impact on customer acquisition, growth and retention, and on credit spreads, deposit gathering and product pricing, which can affect market share, deposits and revenues. Our ability to anticipate and continue to respond to technological changes can also impact our ability to respond to customer needs and meet competitive demands.
- Business and operating results can also be affected by widespread natural and other disasters, pandemics, including the COVID-19 pandemic crisis, dislocations, terrorist activities, system failures, security breaches, significant political events, cyber attacks or international hostilities through impacts on the economy and financial markets generally, or on us or our counterparties specifically.
- Legal, regulatory and accounting developments could have an impact on our ability to operate and grow our businesses, financial condition, results of operations, competitive position, and reputation. Reputational impacts could affect matters such as business generation and retention, liquidity, funding, and the ability to attract and retain management. These developments could include:

 - Changes to regulations governing bank capital and liquidity standards.
 - Unfavorable resolution of legal proceedings or other claims and regulatory and other governmental investigations or other inquiries. These matters may result in monetary judgments or settlements or other remedies, including fines, penalties, restitution or alterations in our business practices, and in additional expenses and collateral costs, and may cause reputational harm to F.N.B.
 - Results of the regulatory examination and supervision process, including our failure to satisfy requirements imposed by the federal bank regulatory agencies or other governmental agencies.
 - The impact on our financial condition, results of operations, financial disclosures and future business strategies related to the implementation of the new FASB Accounting Standards Update 2016-13 Financial Instruments - Credit Losses commonly referred to as the "current expected credit loss" standard (CECL) or modifications made to the implementation or the application of the CECL standard pursuant to the 2020 Cares Act.
 - The impacts from the COVID-19 Pandemic and the invocation of the Defense Production Act on, among other things, the Company's business and its employees, operations, customers, critical vendors and suppliers (including any requirement by federal or state governments to effectively quarantine employees or to close operations to the extent not considered "essential" or "critical infrastructure, and the uncertainties of the duration of the same), the ability to pay and receive payments, business relationships due to restrictions on travel and otherwise, liquidity, compliance with financial and operating covenants and key management.

Capital Management

F.N.B. Corporation Risk-Based Capital Position

- Year-to-date PPNR (non-GAAP) of $236 million more than supports incremental 1H20 credit reserve build
- Ample internal capital generation for YTD common & preferred dividends of $83 million
- Consistent estimated CET1 levels compared to 4Q19 at 9.4% even with $25 million of common stock buybacks during 1Q20

(1) June 30, 2020 capital ratios are estimates and reflect the election of a five-year transition to delay the full impact of CECL on regulatory capital for two years, followed by a three-year transition period

Capital Management Philosophy

Goal: Maintain a comfortable cushion above well-capitalized levels, utilizing internal guidelines to create an appropriate buffer

- Developed capital matrices for holding company and bank to monitor and manage over 50 variables that impact capital management
- Utilizing internal guidelines as benchmarks for stress testing purposes when analyzing results under the severely adverse scenarios
- Running sensitivity analyses to quantify the magnitude of a reduction in capital or increase in assets that would reduce capital ratios below the internal guidelines
- Focused on maintaining the dividend payout ratio below 50% to enhance retained earnings generation capacity, while supporting solid growth in loans

Overall, the capital management philosophy is grounded in conservative and consistent underwriting and credit management philosophy throughout varying economic cycles, supplemented with robust and comprehensive enterprise risk management, including very active credit monitoring processes
