First National Bank Promotes Donatelli to Lead Pittsburgh Region Brings Extensive Experience Serving Commercial Clients in the Market

PITTSBURGH, PA – August 28, 2015 – First National Bank, the largest subsidiary of F.N.B. Corporation (NYSE: FNB), announced today the promotion of Ronald Donatelli to Pittsburgh Regional President.

Donatelli will be responsible for integrating FNB's successful cross-functional business model and for developing small business and corporate banking opportunities in the Bank's largest region. Additionally, he will have oversight for the Bank's Syndications, International Banking Services and Business Credit divisions. Donatelli succeeds Robert Moorehead, recently named Chief Wholesale Banking Officer, in the role.

"With extensive experience and in-depth knowledge of the area, Ron has already played a significant part in First National Bank's growth and success here in our headquarters city," said Moorehead. "We are confident that, as Regional President, his proven ability to inspire collaboration across business units will even further help our clients achieve their goals through more holistic banking relationships."

Donatelli brings more than 30 years of financial services experience to this role, having joined FNB in 2009 to lead its Business Credit division. Previously, he held a range of leadership roles with asset-based lending groups at major banks in the region. He earned his bachelor's degree in Business Administration from LaRoche College and is active in the community as chair of the Watson Institute/First National Bank Pro Am golf tournament.

Robert Beer will move into Donatelli's previous role as Managing Director of Business Credit for FNB, leveraging more than 30 years of experience in the field. Added Moorehead, "Bob has been instrumental in building out our asset-based lending team since he joined FNB six years ago, making him the perfect fit to lead this business and to drive results for our clients."
